

PHOTO BY MARISA PELLEGRINI

▲ Interior designer Patti Smith chose a frameless shower because it didn't occupy as much visual space in a bathroom.
December 2006/January 2007

PHOTO BY WEAVER LILLEY

▲ In a small Long Beach Island bath with a door that swings in, a serpentine vanity saves the day. Design by Jennifer Nilsen, IEI Group, Interior Designers and Architects in Philadelphia.
February/March 2012

Half-Wall Wisdom

▼ A half-wall preserves openness but still provides a backdrop for furniture in this room by designer Miriam Ansell.
October/November 2007

PHOTO BY DAVID VAN SCOTT

PHOTO BY PATRICIA BURKE

▲ Designer Suzette Donleavy of Well-Designed Interiors in Rumson added a half-wall to break up the bowling-alley look of a combined living-dining area and to provide display space.
April/May 2010